"LAST LEAF."

[Dr. Holmes is now in his 77th year Following is the famous "Last Leaf."] I saw him once before As he passed by the door,

And again The payement stones resound As he totters o'er the ground With his cane.

They say that in his prime, Ere the pruning-knife of Time Cut him down. Not a better man was found By the orier on his round Through the town.

But now he walks the streets, And he looks at all he meets, Sad an l wan; And he shakes his feeble head, That it seems as if he had said,

"They are gone." The mossy marbles rest On the lips that he has prest In their bloom; And the names he loved to hear

Have been carved for many a year On the tomb. My grandmamma has said-Poor old tady, she is dead

Long ago— That he had a Roman nose And his cheek was like a rose In the snow. But now his nose is thin,

And it rests upon his chin Like a staff. And a crook is in his back, And a melancholy crack . In his laugh.

I know it is a sin For me to sit and grin At him here; But the old three-cornered hat, And the breeches, and all that

And, if I should live to be The last leaf upon the tree In the spring, Let them smile, as I do now, At the old forsaken bough Where I cling.
